

Nautronix to Open New Office in Norway

Nautronix not only celebrates the opening of a new office in Stavanger, Norway, but is also delighted to announce the appointment of Jørn Berg as vice president of sales for Norway.

Nautronix sees huge growth in the Norwegian market for its full range of products and services. Jørn Berg joins the company with over 25 years of experience in the oil and gas industry with past roles in sales, marketing and business development. He will be based in the Stavanger office and will make regular sales visits where he will focus on building on existing customer relationships and also expanding Nautronix's client base.

Jørn Berg comments: "It is an exciting time to be joining Nautronix. With the development of new products and the interest that is being generated by the existing ones, I think the company is in a great position to target the Norwegian market and I look forward to being part of the team."

CEO Mark Patterson adds: "With the heightened activity in Norway and having well-established offices in Houston and Rio de Janeiro, it made great sense to expand the company further and open a Nautronix entity in Norway. I feel that Jørn's appointment has come at a great time. We are receiving a substantial number of enquiries from Norway and I have no doubt that Jørn will be able to generate even more leads and promote Nautronix and its products in the area."
