

Applied Acoustics Picks Up Down Under Contract

Western Advance, Australia, has recently completed a contract for the supply of one of AAE's Nexus USBL systems to Neptune Marine Services headquartered in Perth, WA, Australia. The provision of this system is notable as it marks the 450th USBL system that AAE has supplied to the subsea industry, further demonstrating the company's strong position in this field.

Having been a regular user of the Nexus USBL through Western Advance's rental facility, Neptune's Operations manager Pat Fournier commented that given the amount of work they are now undertaking where the use of a USBL system is a requirement, it makes sense for Neptune to invest in a permanent system.

AAE and Western Advance will be exhibiting at the AOG conference in Perth, WA, co-sharing stand D8. Neptune Marine Services are also exhibiting and are on stand D14.

<https://www.hydro-international.com/content/news/applied-acoustics-picks-up-down-under-contract>
