

New Senior Appointments at ASV Global

ASV Global has named Mark Exeter as the new managing director of its Portchester office in the UK. Mr Exeter's predecessor, Dan Hook, moves into a new role as senior director of business development to focus on further market expansion.

Thomas Chance, CEO of ASV Global, said that these changes will help position ASV Global for continued growth as the company applies its technology to budding markets including increasingly larger vessels. Mark brings experience in developing reliable marine products, robotics, business operations and manufacturing process from his time at Saab Seaeye.

Dan, who has been instrumental in leading ASV Global's UK office since inception, will be able to fully concentrate on the multidimensional market expansion the business is experiencing.
