

Atlas Services Group Acquires GOSS Consultants

Atlas Services Group completed the acquisition of 100% interest in UK-based GOSS Consultants Ltd and GOSS (North Sea) Ltd on Friday, 8 March 2013. Atlas Services Group initiated the acquisition of GOSS to add further scope and options for the combined existing client bases and consultants.

In the current economic climate, efficiency is of increasing importance. Clients continue to expand and professionalise. This is also the focus within the strategy of Atlas Services Group.

The company is therefore pleased to announce that Atlas Services Group and GOSS will integrate and, in the near future, trade under the name of 'Atlas Services Group'. This acquisition brings together two of the strongest and most developed agencies in the niche market of seismic, hydrographic, telecoms, renewable and offshore survey professionals. By combining the best attributes of both companies, the aim is to become first choice for consultants, clients and employees.
