

Business Development Manager Appointment

WFS announces the appointment of Ian Crowther as Business Development Manager with global responsibility for WFS's Environmental and Industrial business. WFS has recently formed a new Environmental and Industrial Division.

Ian, Educated at St John's College, Cambridge University, has over 10 years experience of international business development, working with Linn Products, 3D Engineering Services and Scottish Development International.

With through-water and through-ground RF technology and a range of multi-bandwidth products, target applications include environmental monitoring of rivers, lakes, estuaries, and landfill sites, oceanographic monitoring, process control and communications in underground mines and culverts.