

CEDA Dredging Days 2012 In Abu Dhabi

High-quality and inspiring technical presentations, an exhibition showcasing the latest advances in technology, and a superb programme of site visits, social events and partner tours – this is what awaits visitors to CEDA Dredging Days in Abu Dhabi on 12 and 13 December 2012.

Entitled 'Virtue, Venture and Vision in the Coastal Zone', the next edition of the Central Dredging Association's signature series of conferences, the CEDA Dredging Days, will take place at the Beach Rotana Hotel in Abu Dhabi with the Society of Engineers – UAE as Supporting Partner.

CEDA Dredging Days 2012 will be preceded by the CEDA-IADC Training Course Environmental Aspects of Dredging on 10-11 December. This course will take place in Abu Dhabi for the second time, creating a perfect synergy with CEDA Dredging Days 2012. Those participating in both events will receive a 10% discount on both registration fees.

CEDA Dredging Days are known as the premier technical forum to learn about and discuss dredging and construction and maintenance of water-based infrastructure. They bring together experts, scientists and practitioners working in these fields in academia, business or government.

The event will enable participants to meet colleagues from all over the world and allows experts from abroad to learn first-hand about those impressive developments for trade and infrastructure as well as for the offshore oil and gas industry, where dredging plays a significant role.

CEDA Dredging Days are sponsored by the National Marine Dredging Company (main sponsor), Gulf Cobla and Vuyk Engineering Rotterdam. CEDA's official magazine IHS Dredging and Port Construction is the Official Media Partner.
