

Compare Tools and Solutions on Geo-matching.com

The new website by Geomares Publishing, the Netherlands “Geo-matching.com” enables you to compare products on a single site before purchasing. Geo-matching.com is an independent comparison website featuring detailed spec-based comparisons and user reviews for more than 500 geomatics products. The Geo-matching.com platform brings together the popular GIM International and Hydro International product surveys in one place.

Users are able to:

- Compare over 500 products
- Submit feedback and reviews

- Read other industry professionals’ comments and opinions
- Obtain online information easily and at no charge

Geo-matching.com represents a chance for companies to promote their products to a relevant professional group, including details of specifications and benefits. Product descriptions can be supplemented by photos, videos and brochures as well as a company profile and details of the dealer network to make it even easier for prospective customers to make contact.

Visit www.Geo-matching.com to leave a review or read through the products, or contact aliette.miedema@geomares.nl for more information.
