

FarSounder on Show

In November, FarSounder is represented on a number of shows, where the opportunities to meet in person are available. These shows are ideal places to introduce FarSounder's new developments, including the Ship Protection System with 'fixed sensors', the new FS-3ER, Forward Looking Echosounder, Forward Looking Multi Beam Sonar and Jeppesen C-MAP integration.

The company will be represented at METS from 16th to 18th November in Amsterdam, The Netherlands. This is the world's largest trade show of equipment, materials and systems for the international marine leisure industry. This year, FarSounder CEO Cheryl Zimmerman will be present throughout the show, supporting all exhibiting and visiting dealers and customers and he is available for an appointment.

The company also is represented at the International WorkBoat Show in New Orleans, USA from 1st to 3rd December in Booth 1661. With over 900 exhibitors, the International WorkBoat Show is the largest commercial marine trade show in North America, serving people and businesses working on the coastal, inland and offshore waters.
