

Gardline Buys Lankelma

Gardline has acquired UK specialist Cone Penetrometer Testing (CPT) provider, Lankelma CPT Ltd. Lankelma, which has been operating in the UK for the past four years, specialises in providing geotechnical and environmental in situ investigations using the latest CPT and soil investigation technology. The company's current portfolio includes:

- Infrastructure, motorway and rail
- Construction, Green and Brownfield site assessments
- Marine, wind farms and oil platforms
- Research, universities and private commissions

The combined services of Lankelma and Gardline will offer clients a much wider range of onshore and geotechnical services from onshore to deepwater.

With this acquisition the jointly owned Lankelma Seacore Offshore Ltd (LSO) will forge a strong link between Gardline and the established experts in marine geo-technical and exploration drilling.
