

HI Forum extended

Hydro International has extended the number of subjects in the Forum. This creates a platform where professionals can exchange questions, answers and experiences in a wider range of subjects, like Human Resources, Platforms, Positioning and more.

It is easy to participate in the discussion online. You just need to register once and you can contribute to the forum or ask colleagues to think about issues as well. Or to share their experiences with equipment or ways to solve a problem. You also can leave comments with articles, once you are registered.

In the forum, you can easily create new topics under a subject. However, if you would like to create a new subject that is not published yet, please do not hesitate to contact the Hydro International internet editor.
