

Launch RUCO Ltd

Raymond Ruth has set up a new company to act as a multifaceted supplier to the marine market. The new company, RUCO Ltd, will use the founder's twenty years of experience gained working in the seismic, ROV and hydrographic survey industries to provide sales and technical support to both manufacturers and their clients in the Offshore, Ports and Harbours and general marine market.

Services to be provided include:

- Manufacturer representation
- Satellite communications services
- Equipment brokering (sales and rental)
- Consultancy
- Market research

The company, formed in August 2003, has been appointed as representative for several companies including EVA A/S and Pisis Limited, both being providers of software solutions, and Fastwave Communications, a provider of satellite data and remote monitoring solutions.

The new company also has agreements with several companies from whom it can source surplus equipment for sale or rental, in addition to specialist personnel.
