

Marine GIS Workshop

OceanWise, UK, is to host its annual Marine GIS Workshop on Tuesday 18 November 2014 at The School for Economic Science in Mandeville Place, London, W1U 3AJ. Existing customers will present practical examples of how OceanWise products and services are successfully delivering real benefits and cost savings.

The workshop, which is at no cost to attend, will include presentations and demonstrations of new and existing tools and techniques and how these can be applied in any working environment.

By attending the workshop, participants will gain from the knowledge and experience of industry experts and practitioners, as well as finding out how spatial data management and GIS can deliver their value.

Professionals who are involved in decision support and / or asset management in ports and harbours, coastal planning and management, offshore renewable energy, emergency response, archaeology and heritage, minerals and hydrocarbons extraction, fisheries and aquaculture, conservation, engineering and construction or regulation, are welcome. For more information about attending this one day stakeholder event to learn more about what is possible, to engage in discussions and to network with others in the industry, see the details in the programme.
