

Metoc Acquires Compass Data Systems

Metoc plc has acquired Compass Data Systems Limited, to strengthen its portfolio of marine and coastal data services. Compass Data Systems provides software and consultancy on the processing of oceanographic data, in particular that associated with advanced instrumentation such as acoustic current profilers.

The acquisition will enable Metoc to offer clients the possibility of combining real-time and simulated data with other environmental and engineering data and delivering this quickly and easily across organisational networks using GIS and internet mapping technology.
