

New Distributors for Ac-cess

Ac-cess (UK) has signed up three further international distributors for the AC-ROV Underwater Inspection System. The Scandinavian and Eastern-European companies are to expand the presence of the ROV manufacturer in their regions.

Based in Norway and headquartered in Thailand, Dacon Inspection offer services ranging from non destructive testing (NDT) to complete inspection programs to the oil and gas, petrochemical and power industries. With a client base covering the Scandinavian countries and the entire South East Asian region, Dacon are at the forefront of RVI technology. What they can't buy they make themselves including crawler vehicles, pigs and probes.

MeriNorpat is a family business formed in 1984 and located in Uusikaupunki, South-West Finland. Originally offering inshore diving services, MeriNorpat expanded their business operation into shallow water survey and inspection in 2008 with the inclusion of various sonar survey products. Mr Marko Saramo (managing director, MeriNorpat) has a very positive outlook for the AC-ROV as it completes their shallow-water survey and inspection capability.

Juwenta DB is a procurement and financial consulting company, based in Germany. The main business of the company is to develop and structure financial solutions that fit the needs of their clients. Known for exploring new ways of connecting private companies and government authorities, Juwenta DB is a leading supplier to the law enforcement, environmental protection and dangerous material disposal sectors of the Republic of Kazakhstan. Exclusively representing over 20 European, Canadian and US military producers in Kazakhstan, Juwenta DB feel adding the AC-ROV to their product line will create new benefits both for their military and civil customers.
