

New Marketing Manager for ODI

Ocean Design, Inc. (ODI) announces the appointment of Terry O'Brien to the Defense and Communication Marketing team. He will assume the role of Marketing Manager in the Northeast, and will be responsible for Market Development and Technical Sales Management for that area. He will report to John Flynn, Director of Sales & Marketing for the Defense and Communications Group.

Mr. O'Brien has a strong Technical and Marketing background, and has had a distinguished career with Raychem Corporation and Tyco Electronics since 1979. His entire career has been focused on harsh environment interconnect solutions in the Defense and Commercial Markets, and has held senior positions in Sales Management, Market Development and Product Management.
