

New US Offices Ixsea Oceano

Ixsea Oceano has opened two offices in the US to provide commercial and technical support for local customers. The main office is in Burlington on the outskirts of Boston MA, with a branch office located in Charleston, SC. Hubert Pelletier, Managing Director of the company, will co-ordinate all America-related business. Hubert Pelletier has accumulated more than twenty years experience in the oceanographic and offshore industry, starting as an R&D engineer for SUBER, followed by technical and sales management at Oceano Instruments and MORS Environment. Before taking charge of the American market, he was Sales Manager for Europe and Asia, spending two years in Scotland. Richard Dentzman, recently appointed Sales Manager, will deal with the Defence market. Mr Dentzman has extensive professional experience in surveying and mapping. His career has covered management and project supervision both in the laboratory and offshore. He was former President/Owner of AquaMap, Inc. (surveying and sales representation) and a Sales Engineer for Triton Elics International before joining Ixsea Oceano. Mr Dentzman also served with the US Navy on nuclear submarines.
