

Partnership for EIVA Training

The international recruitment company Atlas Services Group, The Netherlands, and EIVA, Denmark, have joined forces by entering into a collaboration agreement that will include training courses on the EIVA software suite in Atlas Services Group's training curriculum offered globally. To EIVA, making Atlas Services Group an EIVA software training partner is a welcome opportunity to ensure that no wish to attend training courses will go unanswered.

Atlas Services Group sees a large and increasing demand for EIVA training courses coming from its clients: survey contractors and freelance personnel. Including the EIVA software suite in the curriculum was therefore an obvious choice in order to address the skills gap.

Through the Atlas Services Group-EIVA partnership, the number of locations and training courses is increased. The next ones will take place in January, March and May in the UK, and later in 2013 in yet-to-be-defined locations, possibly The Netherlands, Singapore, Africa, Italy and USA.

Atlas Services Group is an international recruitment company specialising in the energy and marine industry and servicing more than 1,800 candidates worldwide, each day. The company's hydrographic department in the UK focuses on this niche market alone and is recognised as the leading global specialist in the supply of high quality professionals to the offshore survey industry. This includes competence development focusing on the skill demands in the industry.
