

RIEGL Lidar 2012 User Conference

RIEGL USA is to host the RIEGL International Airborne and Mobile User Conference from 28th February to 1st March 2012 in Orlando, USA, at the Hilton Orlando. Attendees will be offered three days of learning and networking sessions that cover various topics ranging from best practices to teambuilding.

These intensive sessions will provide an opportunity to optimise current systems' investments through in-depth training and Q & A sessions. During this year's event, users will learn more about all the instruments introduced by RIEGL at the Intergeo 2011 conference. There will be offered the chance to see the new RIEGL VQ-820-G Bathymetric System and the RIEGL VMX-450, which will be on display.

All international RIEGL airborne and mobile users are welcome to attend. Detailed information, preliminary agenda as well as the possibility to register will be provided in due time.
