

Schilling Robotics and Sub-Atlantic Form Alliance

Schilling Robotics LLC of Davis, California and Sub-Atlantic Ltd have formed an alliance that pools the companies'™ resources for sales, service, product development, and marketing. The alliance provides customers with a wide range of subsea vehicles, vehicle components, and control systems that can now be purchased from a single source. The two companies are also pooling their technical expertise to enhance existing products and create new ones, yielding cost-effective equipment designed to enhance customer productivity. The two companies are reviewing each other's facilities to see if customers can benefit from spares stocking at these locations. The alliance anticipates supporting all alliance products from bases in the U.K., Norway, U.S. (California and Texas), UAE, Russia, Japan, and Australasia.
