

Sonavision Delivers RoxAnn to Hellenic Centre for Marine Research

Sonavision has delivered a RoxAnn system to the Hellenic Centre for Marine Research, formerly called the Institute of Marine Biology Crete. RoxAnn was selected as the preferred tool following use of RoxAnn in many of the centre's previous programmes. The dual frequency RoxAnn system will be used to map sea-grass populations in the Eastern Mediterranean Sea.

<https://www.hydro-international.com/content/news/sonavision-delivers-roxann-to-hellenic-centre-for-marine-research>
