

Technical Sales Manager Offshore

Due to IXSEA's growth in the offshore market, the company has appointed Edward Cheesman as Technical Sales Manager based in the Aberdeen office. He strengthens the UK team by supporting its offshore oil and gas business.

Edward Cheesman will manage key customer accounts; provide technical sales advice and logistics support to customers.

Previously at Weatherford International, he was involved in project managing subsea completions to wells using fiber optic gauges.

<https://www.hydro-international.com/content/news/technical-sales-manager-offshore>
