

Titan Now Looking to the Middle East

As a key provider of marine site investigation surveys during Round 1 of the offshore windfarm developments in the UK, Northern Ireland and Eire, Titan Environmental Surveys is now poised for Round 2. Indeed, a teaming agreement with Vosper Thornycroft for use of the R.V. Prince Madog provides 24 hour capability. Titan also provides services to the tidal and wave power sectors.

Titan are now looking to the Middle East to offer their valuable experience gained from supporting engineering and environmental consultancies, water companies, telecommunication companies, government bodies, marine renewables industry and ports & harbour authorities.

Providing quality assured services, experienced staff and up to date equipment for acquisition/processing including purpose built survey catamarans, Titan's services include: oceanographic, geophysical, hydrographic and marine benthic surveys, flow monitoring and water quality sampling of rivers, estuaries and coastal waters.
