

VideoRay Spins off SeaTrepid

VideoRay has announced the spin-off of ROV field missions and training company SeaTrepid. Bob Christ, co-founder of VideoRay, will head the new company. Mr Christ has helped many organisations make the most of VideoRay in the field, including National Geographic, the US Navy, US Coast Guard, US Customs, Swedish Navy, Discovery Channel, National Parks, and a host of other governmental and commercial organisations.

With the functionality of some work-class ROV systems, SeaTrepid uses VideoRay ROVs to boost the success of any underwater project.
